RAG - CHEWING BENEATH THE TREES

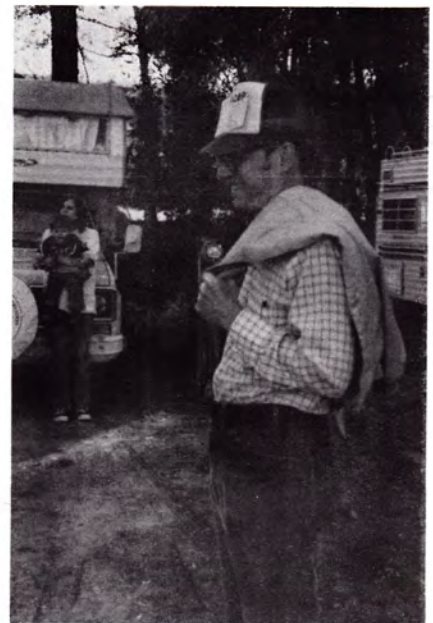

Mild temperatures,
clear skies,
and good times
prevailed.

The site of the Eyeball, Pleasant Valley, near Cimarron, Colorado, was selected with assistance from Don WØGOR and Margaret WØGOQ. It proved to be a relaxing atmosphere--ideal for rag-chewing.

Fishing?? No. Bob used his casting expertise to put a line into the tree on the far side of the creek for raising the dipoles.

Is that the right side of the mike, Bob?

Net Control was rotated among all who were interested in assuming it--for the early and late 75 meter nets on Friday night and for the early and late 40 meter nets on Saturday night.

Oh yes, the Ham Shack doubled as sleeping quarters for KAØIWP and KAØIWQ -- or was it vice versa?

Saturday night, watermelon was enjoyed during net time, following the hamburger fry.

Jean couldn't make it to the Eyeball so he sent photo of himself instead.

A total of 20 hams, plus family, turned out for this year's Eyeball West-- almost twice as many as last year.

They tallied as follows:

- 11 from Ø-land, 3 from 8-land,
- 2 from 7-land, 2 from 9-land,
- 1 from 4-land, 1 from 6-land.

73's till next year
